

The Advice System of the British Community

The British Community (BC) will issue advice on the behaviour of people administrating its services.

This will extend to advice on the behaviour of people within its jurisdiction. This advice will be readily accessible.

The BC does not have authority to compel any resident of the BC to comply with the wishes of its administration.